Review of General Fund

Three months of the fiscal year have transpired. In the General Fund very few revenues for fiscal year 2023 have come into the City. Property Tax income does not start to come in until the end of November with the larger share coming in December/January and State revenues are always a month after they are collected by the State. Expenses are not delayed, including insurance expenses that have to be paid in October. For these reasons we see expenditures more than revenues. To this end, the City maintains reserves to cover the first few months of each fiscal year until monthly revenue becomes more routine.

The budgets above show the dollars that will come into the City as Revenue and go out of the City to pay for operational and capital expenses over the entire 2022/2023 Fiscal Year.

Below is analysis of the actual Cash the City has at the end of December 2022 and compares it to the actual Cash the City had at the end of December 2021 a year ago:

CASH IN BANK ACCOUNTS at month-end	15,246,123	$ 11,865,872

Analysis between December 2021 and December 2022.

The City is maintaining cash reserves and slowly starting to increase them from the large construction projects from 2016 through 2019 and after paying off the $500,000 W/S loan and the $1.5 million dollar Police Building construction loan. This loan was paid off using the penny sales tax. Additionally, growth construction is contributing to increased water/sewer impact fees. The City has a priority to continue to build funds for cash reserves and reserves for emergencies. The largest gain in cash is due to water/sewer impact fees for new homes and new large commercial projects along with the 2.5 million dollars of ARPA (COVID) funds the City is holding to pay for a sewer rerate construction project that will begin in the 2023 fiscal year.
