Belleview, FL – The City of Belleview is excited to announce several upcoming events aimed at empowering residents through education, community support, and fun-filled family activities. From financial workshops and yard sales to child safety programs and Halloween festivities, there's something for everyone!

Smart Money: Empowering Through Financial Education

In partnership with MIDFLORIDA Credit Union, the City of Belleview is offering "Smart Money: Empowering Through Financial Education"—a free monthly workshop series focused on financial literacy.

The next session, taking place on October 8, 2024, at 10:00 AM at the Belleview Community Center, will cover the crucial topic of financial planning. This series is a fantastic opportunity for residents to take control of their finances, build valuable skills, and strengthen our community's financial well-being. Workshops are free and open to the public.

Robert Vass, Events and Promotions Manager for the City of Belleview, encourages all residents to attend. "These workshops offer practical, hands-on tools to help you make informed financial decisions. Whether you're looking to save more, manage credit, or plan for the future, this is an invaluable opportunity to learn from experts without any cost," said Vass.
