City of Belleview to Launch Upgraded Website on June 11, 2025, Enhancing Public Access to Services and Information

BELLEVIEW, FL — The City of Belleview is pleased to announce the upgraded version of the municipal website is going live on Wednesday, June 11, 2025. The upgraded site —accessible at the same website of www.belleviewfl.org, will take effect on June 11th and was developed to provide residents, businesses, and visitors with improved access to city services, information, and community engagement tools.

The updated site reflects the City’s commitment to transparency, convenience, and accessibility, offering a modern, mobile-responsive interface that meets current ADA compliance standards. Key features of the upgraded site include:

- Online Bill Pay: Residents and businesses can continue to pay utility bills conveniently online.
- Interactive City Maps: Users can view city limits, planning information, and other key data through intuitive mapping tools.
- Expanded Department Access: Simplified navigation provides easier access to city departments for permitting, licensing, and project coordination.
- Dynamic Calendar and News Center: The site will offer simpler access to updates on city meetings, events, and important notices to help keep the community informed.
- Enhanced Notify Me® System: Community members can sign up for customized notifications on a variety of topics—including upcoming events, city commission meetings, public notices, and more.
- Digital Newsletter Subscription: Users can register to receive an e-newsletter featuring important city updates, community news, and timely alerts.

“This website upgrade marks a significant step forward in our ongoing efforts to improve how the City of Belleview serves our residents,” said Mayor Christine Dobkowski. “By investing in technology that enhances communication, increases accessibility, and delivers public services more efficiently, we are laying the groundwork for a more connected and engaged Belleview. Whether you’re paying a utility bill, checking a zoning map, or signing up for alerts about a community event, the tools you need are now easier to access than ever before.”

Mariah Moody, City Administrator, added, “We are excited to move into the future with a website that not only looks modern but also functions as a true service platform for our community. This upgrade is not just about the latest technology, it is really about making that technology work for the people of Belleview. From improved access to services and information to stronger digital communication tools, this website is a major part of how we’re building a smarter, more responsive local government that is truly accessible to all.”

The City encourages residents to explore the updated website at www.belleviewfl.org starting in the afternoon of June 11, and to take advantage of its features by registering for updates and signing up for the city’s new digital newsletter.
